

ONE TEAM UNITING A NATION

DTH FILE

Fans of the U.S. men's soccer team celebrate during the team's first win of the World Cup against Ghana at Italian Pizzeria III on West Franklin Street on June 16. The national team continued on to the elimination stage of the tournament where they were defeated by Belgium 2 to 1 on July 1.

CAROLINA CENTER
for JEWISH STUDIES

A New era for Jewish studies

Established in 2003, the Carolina Center for Jewish Studies unites the general public, students and faculty from various academic disciplines who share a common passion for a deeper understanding of Jewish history, culture and thought.

BA In recent years, the Center launched a new undergraduate degree program in Jewish Studies, introduced a new certificate for graduate students, and created a new Capstone Course in Jewish Studies, an upper-level research seminar for advanced undergraduates. Two academic minors are also offered to undergraduates.

To learn more about the Center, the academic programs, and to see the full list of upcoming events, please visit jewishstudies.unc.edu.

How LUXurious

Earlier this summer, LUX at Central Park announced to students that it would not actually be done on time, after tricking all of us with its fancy amenities, close proximity to campus and, you know, not being the Warehouse. But hey, at least you can pay extra (until your lease is terminated) to have a pool view, right? Who doesn't love viewing an empty concrete hole in the ground? We knew it was too good to be true.

Finally #FreeofPJ

Former UNC men's basketball player and newly drafted Charlotte Hornets rookie P.J. Hairston was accused of assault by high school senior and basketball prospect Kentrell Barkley after a scuffle between the two during a pickup game at a Durham YMCA on Sunday July 6. Yeah. He punched a high school kid. Why does this get a thumbs up? He's not our problem anymore! Sorry Charlotte, we know this one may sting in the long run.

Don't be that girl

On a scandal scale from Solange beating up Jay-Z to Bill Clinton not having sexual relations with that woman, UNC is like that one drunken girl at every party that can't seem to get her act together. After this summer, we're sure UNC just McCant right now. We know the University means well, but bad things keep on happening. Maybe the future is bright, maybe we'll make it through. Eventually that hangover has to fade, right? RIGHT?!

Occupy... again?

Occupy Chapel Hill made its return to Peace and Justice plaza Thursday June 26 to do... something. Become a sad gathering place for smelly anarchists again? Crap some more in the alley? The world may never (want to) know. But you know what they say about leaderless, messy political movements. The sequel is always much, much, much better. (Nobody says that.)

It smells like up dog

Oh, Sup Dogs, how we love your Sup Swirl, the $1 double-your-dog option and that tasty Sup Dog sauce. But seriously, the way our stomachs feel after we feast on your cheesy bacon delight dog and cheesy tots? And the weight we've gained after realizing that Sup Dogs is the only restaurant on Franklin Street we've eaten at in three weeks? What the hell do you put in that sauce!?

Dookies beliebe

Jay Williams, an ESPN college basketball analyst and former player for Duke University, tweeted a photo of himself with Justin Bieber Monday July 7 with a caption saying Bieber is "changing lives." It's almost too easy to make fun of this. Duke, Bieber and an unbelievably facile view of the world all together? Hate, hate, hate, hate. Justice Beaver doesn't deserve this attention.

COMMUNICATION

Are you interested in politics in the US and globally? Questions concerning how we ought to govern ourselves? Critical issues such as health, the environment, and civil rights? Theories about how power and resources are allocated in society? Do you want to study these subjects and pursue a career based on your interest? If so, you should consider studying political science. Political science majors gain a versatile set of analytical and organizational skills that can be applied in a wide range of exciting careers in government, law, business, international organizations, nonprofit organizations, survey research, journalism, and teaching.

We offer our undergraduate students a broad understanding of political institutions and issues, as well as opportunities to engage in meaningful research and internships. Our graduate program, which is small and very selective, educates and trains Ph.D. students from around the world for professional careers in higher education, scholarly research, government and non-governmental agencies.
