

DAILY DOSE

Hustle, hustle, hustle, hard

From staff and wire reports

Pandas, stay scheming. Ai Hin, a panda who currently lives at the Chengdu Research Base of Giant Panda Breeding in China, played her keepers for fools. She's a genius, and here's why. A few weeks ago, Hin began exhibiting signs that she was pregnant. And what happens to pregnant pandas? They are lavishly pampered. Keepers provide them with air-conditioned rooms, round-the-clock care, extra bamboo and fruit. She was basically living the life of a UNC athlete. And then when it was time for the show — because when pandas give birth it is broadcast to the entire world — there was no baby. She had been faking it this whole time! What you should take away from this is to never trust a panda; they'll do anything for a little bamboo (wink).

NOTED. A brewery in Austin, Texas, released twenty 99-packs of its Peacemaker Anytime Ale this week.

Austin Beerworks is selling the pale ale packs for $99.99 at select stores in Austin. In other news, Busch Ice is still less than $14 for a 24-pack at your local Wal-Mart store.

QUOTED. "But until we find things, they had been previous unbound, yet they still exist."

—Megan Fox defending her belief in all things paranormal. We need to consult a professional, but that's utter nonsense, right? She isn't privy to top-secret alien information for being the best part of the Transformers movie...is she?

COMMUNITY CALENDAR

TODAY

Author Reading (Event): David Connerley Nahm will read from his new novel, "Ancient Oceans of Central Kentucky," which is about small-town life in Kentucky. A Kentucky native, Nahm lives in Virginia where he is a lawyer and a college professor. "Ancient Oceans of Central Kentucky" is his first novel. Time: 3:30 p.m. to 4:15 p.m. Location: Bull's Head Bookshop

Marvin Saltzman, emeritus Chairman of Studio Art (Lecture): The lecture will be offered in conjunction with the "Marvin Saltzman: Works from 1948" exhibit. Saltzman has drawn site-specific works from nature since 1968. At the age of 83, he still paints daily. Time: 6 p.m. to 8 p.m. Location: Hanes Art Center

Lev Grossman (Lecture): Is the book reviewer for Time magazine. In 2011 Grossman won the John W. Campbell Memorial Award for Best New Writer from the World Science Fiction Society. A graduate of Harvard and Yale, he lives in Brooklyn with his wife and three children. He will be discussing his new novel, "The Magician's Land." Time: 7 p.m. to 8 p.m.

Location: Flyleaf Books

Business After Hours (Event): The Chapel Hill-Carrboro Chamber of Commerce and Paws4Ever are inviting the public to an after hours event to educate about how the resale store's profits are used. Appetizers, beer and wine will be served. The event is an opportunity to network and get to know local businesses and business people. Members and non-members are welcome to attend. Time: 4:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m. Location: Paws4Ever Animal Sanctuary

Music on the Porch (Event): The Center for the Study of the American South is kicking off its Music on the Porch series tonight. North Carolina artists Shirlette Ammons and JoeElyn Ellis, who play hip-hop/funk music, will perform. Both musicians are part of the Next Level hip-hop diplomacy program sponsored by the U.S. Department of State and directed by UNC music professor Mark Katz. Guests are invited to bring picnic blankets and stay as long as they'd like. Time: 5:30 p.m. Location: Center for the Study of the American South

FRIDAY

Outdoor Movies on the Green (Event): Guests can bring snacks and picnic blankets to watch "Earth to Echo." The PG-rated movie is about a group of children who, after getting coded messages from space, decide to help an alien. The event costs $4. Time: 8:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. Location: Southern Village Green

Dreaming Of... (Event): This one-time event features pieces from 25 artists. The exhibit will also offer a "show within a show" located in the center of the gallery. Time: 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. Location: Skylight Gallery

The Daily Tar Heel applications due (Deadline): The Daily Tar Heel is accepting applications for its writing, photography, copy editing and design desks. Time: 4 p.m. Location: dailytarheel.com

To make a calendar submission, email calendar@dailytarheel.com. Please include the date of the event in the subject line, and attach a photo if you wish. Events will be published in the newspaper on either the day or the day before they take place.
