

Accelerating the Pace of Conservation

Fiscal Year 2019 Annual Report and Progress Made on the 2025 Strategic Action Plan

Inspired by you, TLC set big goals for community conservation.

You are the reason we set the ambitious goals to conserve 25,000 acres by 2025 and engage thousands more people in our work. With the Triangle rapidly growing, we want to ensure the region remains healthy and vibrant – and that all residents have access to clean water, local food, and open spaces where they can walk or bike.

In 2019, we laid the groundwork to implement our new Strategic Action Plan, starting with operational excellence: We added six new positions to support our efforts to accelerate the pace of conservation in the Triangle. You can see most of our staff in the photo here – they are smart, passionate, fun, and hard-working.

We added 60 acres to our actively used Brumley Preserve. Working with partners, we completed the Jordan Lake Watershed Conservation Strategy to safeguard water quality in the Jordan Lake Watershed. We developed partnerships with local farmers as we work toward establishing successful models of sustainable and regenerative agriculture at Bailey and Sarah Williamson Preserve.

As a member of TLC, your donations keep us going. You helped us reach more than 1,000 students and community members this year through environmental education programs and other outreach events. You dedicated more than 4,000 hours volunteering in our office, at our preserves, and at events throughout the Triangle.

With your help, we've protected almost 20,000 acres of land by the end of our first full year implementing the Strategic Action Plan. We are energized and excited as we work toward 25,000 acres while strengthening and building inclusive community partnerships along the way. Thank you, always, for all you've done and continue to do for our community.

Sandy Sweitzer, Executive Director
Triangle Land Conservancy

Audited FY19 financials will be available in mid-December at triangleland.org/ar

OUR MISSION

TLC strives to create a healthier and more vibrant Triangle region by safeguarding clean water, protecting natural habitats, supporting local farms and food, and connecting people with nature through land protection and stewardship, catalyzing community action, and collaboration.

Report on Year 1: Laying the Groundwork

Making Progress on the 2025 Strategic Action Plan

Accelerating the Pace of Conservation: 25,000 Acres by 2025

18,749
protected through FY19

4,881 to go

1,370 in progress*

*This estimated number includes land projects that have been completed or are in progress so far in FY20. Just months into FY20, TLC closed on its largest land conservation project ever.

In October 2019, TLC purchased Brogden Bottomlands, a 1,120-acre property in Johnston County. Featuring bald cypress trees, rare oxbow lakes, and a unique brown water swamp, the property protects prime farmland. It is also a refuge for wildlife, serves as a reservoir for stormwater and acts as a carbon sink, absorbing more carbon than it releases. Pictured below is one of the ponds on the property, which is 35 miles south of downtown Raleigh.

FY19 By the Numbers

You helped...

Monitor 13,100 Acres

Staff monitored more than 8,000 acres of conservation easements and over 5,100 acres of owned lands.

Conserve 372 acres, including...

Complete the Jordan Lake Watershed Conservation Strategy

Working with many partners, TLC completed the Jordan Lake Conservation Strategy to protect drinking water and guide land conservation efforts in the watershed.

...2.62 miles of stream

Support Local Farms & Food

TLC hired a Farm Manager for Bailey and Sarah Williamson Preserve and developed partnerships with local farmers who will soon be operating on the land.

...244 acres of farmland

Plant 6,000 Longleaf Pine

At Bailey and Sarah Williamson Preserve, volunteers planted 6,000 longleaf pine seedlings in February.

Engage 707 people at 42 events

Connect 476 Students to Nature

Working with community partners, TLC provided Triangle youth opportunities to build first-hand experiences with wild and working lands.

Provide 29 education programs

Contribute 4,014 Volunteer Hours

Volunteers helped at TLC's office, taught outdoor education programs, led hikes, participated in outreach events, served on the Board of Directors and TLC committees, and assisted with stewardship activities.

Build 3.5 miles of trails and design 10+ more

FY19 Highlights and Details

Safeguarding Clean Water

- Developed important frameworks and partnerships in FY19 to protect clean water throughout the region, working with the Jordan Lake One-Water (JLOW) initiative to complete the Jordan Lake Watershed Conservation Strategy, which:
 - Will guide local governments and land conservation organizations in their efforts to protect water quality
 - Identified 10,000 parcels of land totaling 385,000 acres of priority conservation
 - Sets a goal of protecting 35,000 acres in the Jordan Lake Watershed over the next 35 years
 - More info: triangleland.org/jlow

Connecting People With Nature

- Increased ethnic diversity of staff and board by 25% in FY19
- Aquired 60 acres to expand Brumley Nature Preserve, our most-visited preserve
- Partnered with Knightdale High School, NC Museum of Natural Sciences' Girls in Science program, East Durham Children's Initiative, Boys and Girls Clubs, and others to provide 29 environmental education programs
- Built 3.5 miles of new trails at White Pines Nature Preserve, doubling the trail mileage at our oldest preserve
- Mapped and began construction on more than 10 miles of trails at Bailey and Sarah Williamson Preserve

FY19 Highlights and Details

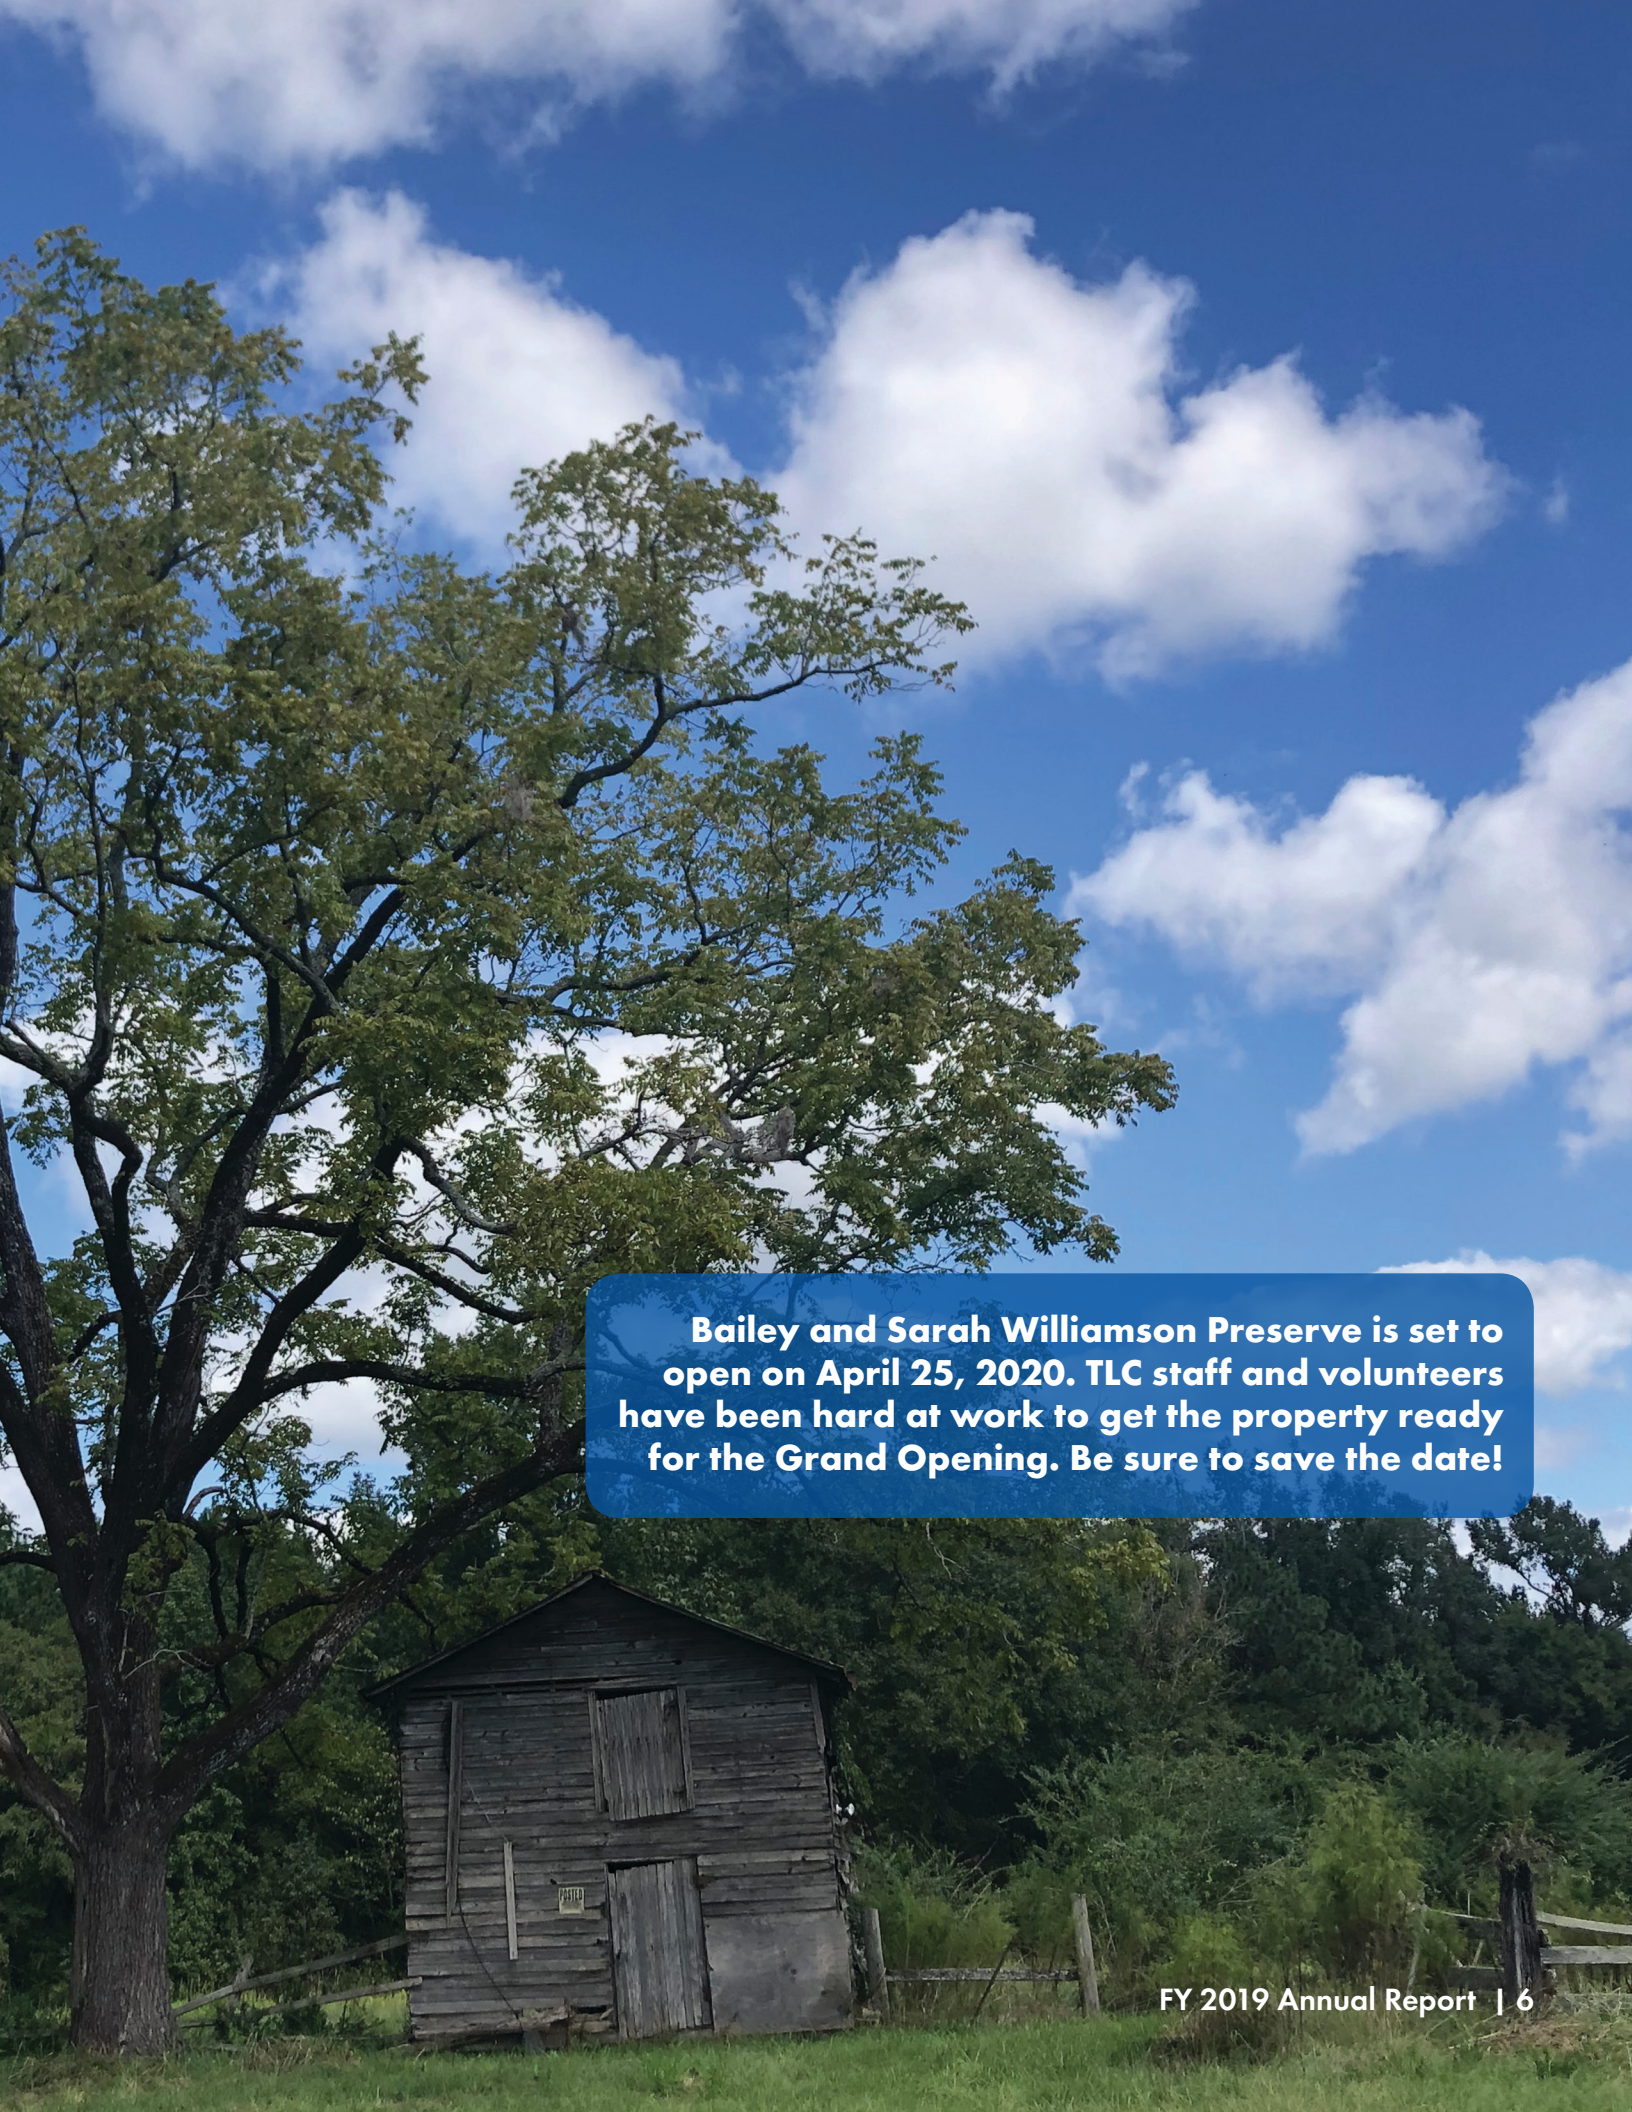

Protecting Natural Habitats

- Conserved 304 acres of buffer land – a ten-fold increase from FY18. Buffer lands help expand habitat corridors for wildlife.
- Protected 105.5 acres of Natural Heritage Sites
- Connected all of TLC's conservation efforts along Buffalo Creek to the Neuse River (see back cover) by conserving 70 acres in Johnston County
- Planted 6,000 longleaf pine seedlings at For The Love of the Longleaf, a volunteer workday at Williamson Preserve. Longleaf pine provides habitat for a broad range of species, including the endangered red-cockaded woodpecker.

Supporting Local Farms and Food

- Launched the NextGen Farm project at Williamson Preserve, a key component of Wake County's Food Security Plan
 - Hired a NextGen Farm Manager who is responsible for establishing successful models of sustainable and regenerative agriculture at Williamson Preserve, as well as for recruiting and supporting new farmers in partnership with the Center for Environmental Farming Systems (CEFS)
 - Regenerative agriculture: farming and grazing practices that reverse the effects of climate change by rebuilding soil organic matter and restoring degraded soil biodiversity, resulting in carbon drawdown and improving the water cycle

Bailey and Sarah Williamson Preserve is set to open on April 25, 2020. TLC staff and volunteers have been hard at work to get the property ready for the Grand Opening. Be sure to save the date!
