

Bertie Ledger-Advance

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 2009

A crumbling historic treasure needs rescue

It is a small, one-story wooden building, but it is a treasure. The Bertie Ledger-Advance, a historic newspaper building, is in a state of severe disrepair. The structure is crumbling, with missing siding and a roof that appears to be sagging. The building is surrounded by a fence, and a few trees are visible in the background. The overall scene is one of neglect and decay.

Treasure

The Bertie Ledger-Advance, a historic newspaper building, is in a state of severe disrepair. The structure is crumbling, with missing siding and a roof that appears to be sagging. The building is surrounded by a fence, and a few trees are visible in the background. The overall scene is one of neglect and decay.

The Bertie Ledger-Advance, a historic newspaper building, is in a state of severe disrepair. The structure is crumbling, with missing siding and a roof that appears to be sagging. The building is surrounded by a fence, and a few trees are visible in the background. The overall scene is one of neglect and decay.

A crumbling historic treasure needs rescue

St. Luke's Colonial Episcopal School, one of the world's few remaining "Romanesque" brick school buildings, is in a state of severe disrepair. The school, which was built in 1884, is a historic treasure that needs rescue.

The time is now for the school. The National Trust for Historic Preservation has named it a National Historic Landmark. The school is in a state of severe disrepair and needs rescue.

The school is in a state of severe disrepair and needs rescue. The National Trust for Historic Preservation has named it a National Historic Landmark.

Part of the old St. Luke's School.

The school is in a state of severe disrepair and needs rescue. The National Trust for Historic Preservation has named it a National Historic Landmark. The school is in a state of severe disrepair and needs rescue.

The school is in a state of severe disrepair and needs rescue. The National Trust for Historic Preservation has named it a National Historic Landmark. The school is in a state of severe disrepair and needs rescue.

The school is in a state of severe disrepair and needs rescue. The National Trust for Historic Preservation has named it a National Historic Landmark. The school is in a state of severe disrepair and needs rescue.

Treasure

By Bruce Franklin
Arling Heights, Ill.

The school is in a state of severe disrepair and needs rescue. The National Trust for Historic Preservation has named it a National Historic Landmark. The school is in a state of severe disrepair and needs rescue.

PHOTO BY BRUCE FRANKLIN FOR THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. THE SCHOOL IS IN A STATE OF SEVERE DISREPAIR AND NEEDS RESCUE.

