Al was president of the East Chapel Hill Rotary Club from 1987-88 and was a Paul Harris Fellow.
 Al is survived by Paula, his wife of 41 years; daughter and son-in-law, Pamela and Rick Satcher; daughter, Tina Holland; sister and brother-in-law, Lois and Jordan Freedman; and three grandchildren.

School Briefs

Healthy boundaries

A presentation called "Navigating the Challenging Issues of Parenting" will be held on Wednesday, Feb. 10 from 7 to 8:30 p.m. at Chapel Hill High School Auditorium. It will include identification of age-appropriate expectations of children; guidelines for understanding developmental shifts in kids' attitudes, interests and behaviors; and an overview of what constitutes healthy boundaries in parent-child relationships around common areas of concern and how parents can best communicate these boundaries to their children.
 Presenters will be Dr. Mary Baker-Sinclair, a partner at Chapel Hill Pediatric Psychology with a specialty in assessing and treating childhood issues, and Dr. Bradley Hack of Smooth Psychological Associates.
 Moderator is Dr. Theresa Raphael-Grimm, a professor in the UNC schools of nursing and medicine who also maintains a clinical practice in psychotherapy through the UNC department of psychiatry.

ECHHS offers tours

East Chapel Hill High School is offering information sessions and tours of the school for eighth-grade students currently in private or charter schools who are thinking about attending ECHHS in the fall. The event is on Wednesday, Feb. 3 from 10 to 11:30 a.m. in the school auditorium.
 The school will present information about its curriculum and graduation requirements and offer an opportunity for a guided tour. An RSVP is required by Jan. 29 at 3 p.m. to Wynner Tolliver at 969-2482, ext. 397.

Darlene Ryan earns statewide award

The North Carolina Science Leadership Association presented the 2009 Herman Gatling Award for Outstanding Science Education Leadership in North Carolina to Darlene Ryan of Glenwood Elementary.

 The Gatling Award is presented to a person who has exemplified the high standards of the late Herman Gatling of Durham County. The recipient is someone who has gone above and beyond the requirements of the workplace and provided outstanding leadership and service to science education at the district, regional and state levels and beyond. The award is sponsored by Carolina Biological Supply. It was presented to Ryan in November by the sons of Herman and Emma Gatling.
 Ryan was the first science curriculum resource teacher in Chatham County and received the UNC School of Education's the Distinguished Alumni Award for Excellence in Teaching. She then served as math/science coordinator for the Chapel Hill-Carrboro City Schools and currently is assistant principal of Glenwood Elementary.

Orange County Historical Museum's Heritage Education Passages to the Past Programs

The Junior Curator Native American Artifact activity introduces elementary students to the cultures of the Woodland tribes of central North Carolina. Students become "junior curators" and get to touch Native American artifacts.

The Colonial Quilt activity introduces elementary students to the lives of colonial Americans. Students get interdisciplinary instruction in math, art, and recycling and get to make a quilt of their own!

The Life as a Mill Worker program introduces elementary students to the hard life of a mill worker in Orange County. Students become factory workers by participating in an assembly line.

There ought to be a Bill of Rights! program makes the U.S. Constitution personal by challenging middle school students to create their own bill of rights.

The Heritage Education Passages to the Past Programs are FREE from July 2009- June 2010. We can even come to you!*

*Certain exclusions may apply. Please call for more information.
 For more information, call (919) 732-2201 or visit us online at www.orangeNchistory.org/education.htm.

The Orange County Historical Museum is operated by the Historical Foundation of Hillsborough and Orange County, a 501(c)(3) organization. Funded in part by the Hillsborough Tourism Board and Strowd Roses Incorporation.

MARK TRAIL

THESE ARE 39 SPECIES OF BATS IN THE UNITED STATES, AND HAVING A COLONY OF THESE LITTLE CREATURES AS NEIGHBORS IS CONSIDERED BY MANY A CAUSE FOR REJOICING

BECAUSE BATS HAVE WINGS, THEY LOOK LIKE BIRDS, BUT THEY ARE REALLY MAMMALS...THEY GIVE BIRTH TO THEIR YOUNG, WHICH ARE NURSED BY THE MOTHER

FOR MOST BATS HIBERNATION BEGINS EVERY SEPTEMBER, BUT FOR SOME CAVE DWELLERS IT ISN'T ALWAYS A RESTFUL SLEEP!

IT IS IMPORTANT THAT BATS NOT BE DISTURBED DURING HIBERNATION, AS EACH TIME THEY ARE AWAKENED THEY BURN FAT RESERVES...

AND THEY CAN ACTUALLY STARVE TO DEATH ON THE WALL

BATS ARE ONE OF THE MOST EFFECTIVE EXTERMINATORS OF FLYING INSECTS IN THE ANIMAL WORLD

CAVES ARE ONE OF OUR MOST ENDANGERED ECOSYSTEMS...LAND-USE CHANGES AND HUMAN INTRUSIONS ARE HAVING A BIG IMPACT ON THE FRAGILE NATURE OF CAVE LIFE - ESPECIALLY BATS

RECENT SURVEYS HAVE IDENTIFIED MORE THAN 300 SPECIES OF ANIMALS THAT MAKE CAVES THEIR HOME

NATIONWIDE, GATES HAVE BEEN INSTALLED AT SOME 400 CAVES AND MINES TO PROTECT BATS AND OTHER WILDLIFE

CRYPTOQUOTE ANSWER: Cause & Effect

The message that we send in the midst of these storm must be clear to our cause and to our resolve. Cause and effect are not separate entities. Cause is the first step in a chain of events. Effect is the result of the cause.
