

The Daily Tar Heel

Volume 119, Issue 53

dailytarheel.com

Saturday, August 20, 2011

WELCOME BACK!

COACH BUTCH DAVIS FIRED

Athletic director Dick Baddour steps down shortly after. Everett Withers named new football coach. Page 3.

JOHN EDWARDS IS INDICTED

John Edwards was indicted on charges of breaking campaign finance law. Page 11.

FINAL FOUR LOSS...AGAIN

The women's lacrosse team fell to Northwestern in the NCAA semis. Page 15.

UNC BASEBALL MAKES RUN IN OMAHA

Stellar pitching carried the Tar Heels to their fifth College World Series in six years, where they went 1-2. Page 10.

OBAMA VISITS NC

President Barack Obama will try to stay in contention in the state in 2012. Page 6.

SHELTER APPROVED

The Chapel Hill Town Council approved a homeless shelter's plans to move. Page 8.

LARGE CUTS HIT UNIVERSITY

The Board of Governors handed down a cut of nearly 18 percent in state funding for UNC-Chapel Hill. University officials are looking for ways to soften the cuts' impact on the classroom. Page 3.

HE'S GOT BIG HEELS TO FILL

Jones Angell is replacing Woody Durham as announcer for men's basketball and football. Page 24.

BALLET GRANT GOES TO CPA

Carolina Performing Arts got a major grant for 2013. Page 21.

WHAT YOU MISSED

RETENTION A TOP PRIORITY

UNC administrators stressed the importance of faculty retention amidst cuts. Page 9.

TOWN ELECTIONS GET COMPETITIVE

Elections for seats in Chapel Hill, Carrboro, Hillsborough and Mebane have attracted new candidates. Page 13.

UNC LEADING AIDS RESEARCH

A major study and a $32 million grant show UNC's prominence in AIDS research. Page 16.

DSI COMEDY THEATER GETS NEW LEADERS

Zach Ward, founder of DSI Comedy Theater in Carrboro, left the club in June for a post as managing director at ImprovBoston. His absence allows John Reitz and Paula Pazderka to take the reins. As owner, Ward will continue his involvement in a reduced capacity. Page 28.

GREENBRIDGE SEES PROTESTS

Northside residents protest gentrification at a sustainable housing project. Page 14.