News

EARLY COLLEGE

year's level of enrollment, Green said. Since N.C. community colleges are only supported by the state, an enrollment increase wouldn't be fully funded.

"It it is not as though we can ship money from other sources," he said. "It could mean fewer classes available for overall students than we would have otherwise."

The plan would involve combining programs that schools already have in place, like dual enrollment and early college, into one entity.

It would also open up more departments, allowing students to take more courses, Green said.

"It would allow colleges to put together a program that meets stu-

"You don't have to worry about getting called names or whatever or kind of all that crap that went

Lauren Phipps, Ritter's campaign manager and roommate,

said their platform advocated for a "more sedentary lifestyle" and emerged from a lack of fast food options on campus and the distance of their apartment at Mill swished through the net, she fell back and slid down the court. White shot 7-for-9 from the floor and 5-for-7 from behind the arc. But her jaw-dropping precision was not enough to stop a late Wolfpack rally that allowed UNC to holds its lead for just more than

For tiny White, leading the Tar Heels was a tall order, especially from the bench. Though the Virginia native had the performance of her life, she wasn't exactly

On a night where she lit up the Wolfpack-red floor, White had won. But her team wasn't so lucky. "I want to win," White said. "It doesn't matter if I have a career high or not. If I had zero points and in a place to be proud.

along with the real election."

WRITE-INS

FROM PAGE 1

85 attendees.

WHITE

two minutes.

dents' needs instead of having specific courses to take," he said. "I think if the state can streamline what we are doing, that would be wonderful," said Robin Hardin, educational and partnerships coordinator for Cape Fear Community College. "I am just not sure how we can make sure how it will happen with the current budget."

Cuts to community colleges to the different programs in the past few years have placed a constraint on the number of students the colleges could handle.

"I am not 100 percent sure where we will be able to (grow enrollment) unless the General Assembly reinstates that funding," Hardin said. "I am hopeful that funding will be restored, but I am not seeing where it is going to come from."

She said charging students tuition for the program would not help compensate for the cost of it because it would not cover half of what the state could.

"Tuition at a community college is very low," Hardin said. "So even if we would pay tuition, we still wouldn't be able to run it as a college course."

Sen. Jerry Tillman, R-Montgomery/Randolph, said he did not know where the money to fund the program would come from.

"What I have a problem with is that we are going to give it to you free when we know there is no free lunch," he said.

Contact the State & National Editor at state@dailytarheel.com

BASKETBALL FROM PAGE '

> "I told them in the locker room You may be doing some good things out there, but I need kids that can score," UNC coach Sylvia Hatchell said.

And for a moment in the second half, it looked as if that momentum had appeared for the Tar Heels.

UNC's motivational fist pumps and claps of frustration halted momentarily as junior She'la White spurred a comeback with three 3-pointers in four possessions.

But the Tar Heels' 55-52 lead was short lived as the team's 19 turnovers and just one steal quickly added up to send North Carolina into another momentum-killing deficit.

"We fought hard to get back in t and take the lead," Hatchell said, "but then I thought those kids just bared down hard for N.C. State."

The Wolfpack turned to a confident approach at the free-throw line, racking up 21 points from fouls aplenty by the desperately physical Tar Heels.

N.C. State also committed just four turnovers during the game, the lowest in school history, to maintain a rhythm that sent the game into a series of Wolfpack runs.

Amber White led N.C. State with a game-high 23 points, complemented by four other teammates who scored in the double digits.

"No matter how much we scored, if we can't stop the other team then it just doesn't matter," Broomfield

DTH/FRIN HULL

7

N.C. State fans rush the Reynolds Coliseum floor after the Wolfpack's 88-72 upset victory against the No. 13-ranked North Carolina Tar Heels.

said. "We just (allowed) too many so up for this game, because unless easy baskets in there."

Senior Cetera DeGraffenreid picked up 12 points with fastbreak layups in the final minutes, as fellow leaders Jessica Breland and Italee Lucas were held to 10 points each.

Despite a strong presence under the basket on both ends of the court, not even UNC's rebounding margin of 65-56 could counter N.C. State's 12-steal performance filled with easy transition buckets.

"I told the players before we came over here that (N.C. State) will be they win the ACC Tournament, they're not going to make the NCAA probably because of their record," said Hatchell, whose team is competing for a first-round bye in next week's tournament.

"If they play like they did tonight they could play for the ACC Championship. They might win it if they play like they did tonight with only four turnovers."

> Contact the Sports Editor at sports@dailytarheel.com.

DTH/MELISSA ABBEY Glynnis Ritter, a junior, received the most write-in votes after a quick Facebook campaign. With 58 votes, she beat out Kendall Marshall.

Creek Condominiums from UNC. "I remember we were walking around FallFest and we really soda fountains in every building, wished that UNC campus had a and shorter gym hours. moving sidewalk, and if we were student body president we would

Ritter's campaign promises included vending machines and

Contact the University Editor

make that happen," Phipps said.

$100 student rate • $150 racuity/stan rate $100 new client promotion* • all 4:15 classes for students $10 $100 student rate* • $150 faculty/staff rate*

at university@dailytarheel.com.

Day one

you need to grow and succeed.

advisory services.

and you've set your sights

At Ernst & Young, even day one is a chance to focus on your next step. To set your goals and make plans to get there. In fact, we've developed a unique framework with your career development in mind. It's called EYU -

and it offers formal learning, experiences and coaching so you can jump right in. Find a mentor. And discover future opportunities. It's everything

Want to learn more with a chance to win an iPad?

Explore your career options in assurance, tax, transaction or

Download your QR code reader by texting EYQUIZ to 22333.

Then snap a pic of the code and take our quiz.

Tuesday, February 22 at 6:30pm At the Frank Porter Graham Student Union Auditorium, UNC At the Intersection of South Road and Raleigh Road in Chapel Hill

Students and Community Free Admission | For More Info E-mail: AmbassadorsForisraeINC@gmail.com Tickets Can Be Picked Up In Advance At The Union Box Office - Phone Number 919 962,1449

Event is sponsored by the Christians United for Israel, UNC Student Government Association, and Ambassadors for Israel

Volunteers for Chest Cold Study!

Cough, Cold, Mucus?

Are you experiencing chest congestion, productive cough, or mucus from a cold that started within the last 6 days?

The University of North Carolina is conducting a clinical research study on the effects of an FDA approved medication. A comprehensive health assessment will be conducted prior to beginning the research study.

Consider participating in this study if:

- · You or a member of your family is 18 to 65 years old
- Experiencing a chest cold
- In good general health, and
- Non-smoker, no asthma, and no current active allergies

If you qualify and are enrolled you will receive a study-related medical evaluation and study medication at no cost. You will be compensated for your time and travel.

To learn more, please contact Heather at (919)843-8472 by email at: heather_duckworth@med.unc.edu or contact Aline at (919)843-9108 by email at: kala_aline@med.unc.edu

MILL HOUSE

Young LLP.

Ernst & Young r which is

© 2011 E Ernst & \ each of w

Don't miss out on great units for next year - sign before you leave for spring break!

Sales, Rentals and Management For more information call 968-7226 or go to www.millhouseproperties.com

Friday

Authentic Mexican Cuisine

Monday $2.50 16oz. Miller Lite, Blue Moon, Modelo Especial or Bud Light $2.00 Lime Margaritas $3.50 Strawberry, Peach, Mango & Raspberry Margaritas

Tuesday $2.50 Mexican Beer $2.50 Well Drinks

Wednesday $2.50 Bud Light, Blue Moon, Modelo Especial & Miller Lite Drafts

Thursday $2.25 Michelob Ultra, Bud Light, Miller Lite & Budweiser Bottles

(919) 489-6468 4600 Durham-Chapel Hill Blvd., Durham, NC 27707 www.torerosmexicanrestaurants.com

$2.50 Dos Equis Lager $3.50 Tequila Sunrise $2.50 Corona & Corona Light Saturday $3.50 Sex on the Beach or Pina

$2.75 Dos Equis Amber Draft

Colada $2.25 Bud Lime $2.50 Modelo Especial Draft

Sunday $3.50 Sangria or Michelada