BSM & CBC Joint Book Read – Fall Semester 2012

Please purchase Some of My Best Friends Are Black: The Strange Story of Integration in America. The book, written by Tanner Colby, explores the troubled relationship of race and integration post Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. through four distinct stories.

CBC and BSM members will read the book this fall 2012 semester and then engage in a discussion group(s) in January 2013.

Read, Reflect, and Reveal your thoughts!

Advocacy

1. IMPORTANT! Tuesday, Oct. 23 (5:00 p.m. - Stone Center) Forum for the Five-Year Vision of UNC. Every five years, the UNC system is charged with developing a five-year vision. The UNC Board of Governors has convened an Advisory Committee on Strategic Directions to provide recommendations for that five-year plan. Students, faculty, and staff are coming together to host a forum to highlight what we value most about our university and what it should look like moving forward. Sharing your experiences is critical to creating a vision that works for all. <https://www.facebook.com/events/288754991235966/>
2. Wednesday, Oct. 24 (9:30 a.m. – 3:00 p.m. UNC General Alumni Association Board Room) See attached. Open to the public. http://www.northcarolina.edu/strategic\_direction/meetings/index.php
3. Wednesday, Oct. 24 (12:00 p.m.-1:00 p.m. Fox Auditorium, Carrington Hall) Affordable Care Act (Health Care Reform): Separating Fact from Fiction with Jina Dhillon, JD, MPH. Are you confused by the legislation passed in 2010 referred to as the Affordable Care Act (ACA) or referred to as health reform legislation? Join this informative session by an expert on health reform and staff attorney with the National Health Law Program.
4. Tuesday, Oct. 30 (12:30 p.m. Rosenau Hall – 228) Herman Taylor, PI of the Jackson Heart Study - the largest study in history to investigate the inherited factors that affect high blood pressure, heart disease, strokes, diabetes and other important diseases in African Americans. (A roundtable discussion specifically targeting minority health, underrepresentation of minorities in research and the minority student experience at 11:00 a.m.)
5. Tuesday, Oct. 30 (12:30 p.m. – 1:30 p.m. Stone Center – Rm. 103) Chris Fitzsimon, Director of the NC Policy Watch. NC Policy Watch is a progressive, nonprofit and non-partisan public policy organization that is dedicated to changing the way elected officials debate important issues and, ultimately, to improving the quality of life for all North Carolinians. NC Policy Watch is an independent project of the NC Justice Center, North Carolina's leading private, nonprofit anti-poverty organization.

Stone Center News - <http://sonjahaynesstonectr.unc.edu/>

Sunday, October 21- 4:30 p.m. Dr. Joseph Jordan, Stone Center director, will be featured on this week's Black Issues Forum on UNC-TV to discuss the recent Nina Simone exhibition and upcoming film screening of "The Rosenwald Schools."

Movie Time! Tuesday, October 23 and Thursday, October 25 at 7:00 p.m. 1) Tuesday - "The First Rasta" focuses on the origins of the Rastafari movement. Based on Jamaican culture expert Hélène Lee's eponymous book, The First Rasta traces the political, ideological and spiritual movement to its founder: Leonard Percival Howell, a.k.a. The Gong. 2) Wednesday - Sneak preview of "The Rosenwald Schools" is a documentary (in final production phase) on businessman and philanthropist Julius Rosenwald who joined with African American communities in the south to build schools during the early part of the 20th century. Rosenwald spurred the establishment of 25 YMCA-YWCAs to serve African Americans in cities across the U.S. and created a challenge grant program, seeded for the creation of more than 5,500 schools for poor, rural African American children. 800 Rosenwald Schools were built in North Carolina. The screening is co-sponsored by Carolina Center for Jewish Studies, the Center for the Study of the American South at UNC, and the UNC African - Afro American Studies Department.

Tuesday, Oct. 30 7:00 p.m. Annual Sonja Haynes Stone Memorial Lecture - Dr. Beverly Guy-Sheftall, Professor of Women's Studies at Spelman College. Guy-Sheftall has been involved with the national women's studies movement since its inception and provided leadership for the establishment of the first women's studies major at a historically black college. She is a past president of the National Women's Studies Association and has been involved in a number of advocacy organizations including the National Black Women's Health Project, the National Council for Research on Women, and the National Coalition of 100 Black Women, on whose boards she serves.

Expect”

ArtsCenter (300-G E.
Main Street
Carrboro)
919-929-2787 ext.
201

You Wouldn't Expect, an original play by local playwright Marilyn Barner Anselmi, is a fictional retelling based on true events surrounding the North Carolina Eugenics Program, “You Wouldn't Expect” focuses on a group of characters and how they are involved and affected by the sterilization program that changed so many lives, and, in turn, prevented others.

Congratulations!

Dr. Pamela Love retired from Campus Health Services after 20 years of service! Dr. Love, the only Black physician at Student Health, deserves a peaceful and joyful rest. Dr. Love received both her undergraduate and medical degrees from UNC- Chapel Hill. We appreciate you and your warm infectious smile!
