Papaw Potatoes,

from Margaret Gifford, Assistant Market Manager

Ingredients:

Use approximately 1 and a half small sweet potatoes per person
Pinch of sea salt (optional)
Dried or fresh herbs: rosemary, sage, thyme, approximately 2 tablespoons total Olive oil

Procedure:

Preheat oven to 375 degrees. Wash and lightly peel potatoes (you can leave skins on, or some of the skins on if you want, for added nutrition). Slice in 1/4 inch slices, arrange flat on 1 or 2 roasting pans (depending on how many potatoes you are baking). Drizzle with 1 tablespoon of oil (just enough to coat the potatoes enough for the herbs to stick to them, but not so much that they are greasy). Separately, mince the herbs if they are fresh (or crumble them, if they are dried). Mix and crush the herbs and salt in a mortar and pestle to blend them together a bit. Scatter them evenly over the potatoes and toss to coat. double check potatoes are arranged flat on the pans. Put in the oven for approximately 15 - 18 minutes. (Flip the potatoes mid-way to keep them from sticking and to brown evenly. They will not be potato chips. They will be soft and fully cooked, but still hold together as a soft savory disk, which makes for good kid finger food once they've cooled a bit.)
