Vaccination clinics offered

Orange County's Animal Services Department is offering $5 rabies vaccination clinics in October and November to ensure that cats and dogs are current on their vaccinations.

The low-cost rabies vaccination clinics are Friday, Oct. 30, from noon to 5 p.m. at the Orange County Animal Services Center, 1601 Eubanks Road, Chapel Hill, for one-year vaccinations only, and Saturday, Nov. 7, from 1 to 2 p.m. at the Government Services Center Annex, 208 S. Cameron St., Hillsborough, for both one-year and three-year vaccinations.

Fees must be paid in cash. If you're seeking a three-year vaccination, be sure to bring your pet's most recent vaccination certificate. Dogs must be on leashes and cats must be in carriers. Animals that may be nervous or unsettled should be kept in a vehicle for vaccination. Call 942-7387 for more information about the clinic.

Literacy council anniversary

The Orange County Literacy Council (OCLC) is celebrating its 25th anniversary. The community is invited to visit the new offices and learn how to become involved in this rewarding work or find a tutor for someone who is struggling to read and write.

Stop by the OCLC's open house, Thursday, Nov. 19, from 4 to 7 p.m. The new offices are on the second floor of Carr Mill Mall, next to Carrboro Yoga Company, above Panzanella. For more information, contact Alice Denson at adenson@co.orange.nc.us

Dispute Settlement Center benefit

The Dispute Settlement Center's fourth annual wine tasting will take place on Tuesday, Nov. 10, from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m. at The Siena Hotel in Chapel Hill.

High-end wines will be selected by 3Cups, accompanied by a tasty array of international food donated by 15 local restaurants.

Tickets are $35 per person. You can buy them at the door or reserve them in advance by phoning Julie Potts, 929-8800, ext.

10. All proceeds will go to the DSC community youth programs.

Over a short period of time, three elderly women, each one arriving home around dusk with arms filled with groceries while trying to get her key in the door, had a blanket thrown over her head and was raped.

"Ironically, one had been a professor in New York and had moved here to be safe," Slifkin said. "It really got me upset, but I still didn't know what to do." Women all over town were fired up, and as she and Elaine Hilberman, a psychologist, were en route to a meeting, she learned that sexual trauma was the root of many of Hilberman's female clients' problems. Slifkin asked Hilberman to speak at the next NOW meeting, which received advance notice in the newspaper.

"Most of our meetings were small ... at this one all the space and chairs were taken," Slifkin said while looking around the area that had filled with close to 50 women. Slifkin passed around a clipboard asking women interested in starting a rape crisis center to sign up. "About 10 people did and one volunteered to be chair because she had been attacked from behind and raped by two men."

The following year, in 1974, the center had a phone, the support of the local police departments (though resistance had been met, with one police chief telling Slifkin to "get out of my office and don't show your face again") and the support of the community, which remains strong.

OCRCC moved into its third location this past summer, in offices on the third floor of 1506 E. Franklin St., where natural light from towering windows, some of which, like Slifkin's home, open into the trees, lift and energize staff, clients and board members. Hannah Adams now serves as executive director and looks forward to the center's 22^{nd} annual Holiday Auction at 5 p.m. on Nov. 8 at the Chapel Hill Sheraton.

"I'm really excited," Adams said. "So many people are involved in it, supporting it from the community. I look forward to meeting more people at the event who support our work."

Adams said that private donations and gifts support 50 percent of programs like Community Education – where age-appropriate education is provided to every elementary school classroom in the Orange County and Chapel Hill-Carrboro school districts – survivor services utilizing many OCRCC-trained volunteers responding to a 24-hour hotline and many other services.

Besides the auction dinner, where hundreds of exciting items will be offered in silent and live auctions, raffle tickets are available for anyone to purchase. "A Night on the Town" includes cocktails at The Crunkleton, dinner for two with wine pairings at Bonne Soiree and a night at The Franklin Hotel. Tickets are $5 each or 10 for $45. The deadline to purchase tickets ($60 each) to the auction dinner is Nov. 2. For details see OCRCC.org or call 968-4647.

Citizen Cryptoquote By Martin Brody For example, YAPHCYAPLM is WORDSWORTH. One letter stands for another. In this sample, A is used for the two 0's, Y for the two W's, etc.. Apostrophes, punctuation, the length and formation of the words are all hints.

PETS OF THE WEEK

PAWS4EVER — Meet Sammy! Sammy is a 2-year-old border collie/lab mix who loves to snuggle. He is a little shy at first, but if he can put his head in your lap, he is a happy dog. He gets along great with most of the dogs at the adoption center. He has a long list of friends that he can go out with for play time and have a blast. He is respectful of cats. They make him a little nervous, but he never shows any aggression towards them. He is getting better with his confidence building and isn't tripping us as much when we take him out on leash walks. (He's come a long way — at the begining he was terrified of a leash because he had no idea what it was, poor guy!) If you are looking for a loyal companion who will always be by your side, Sammy would be a great choice. Please come by the shelter and take a look, at Paws4Ever, 6311 Nicks Road, Mebane, or call 304-2300. You can also go online at paws4ever.org

ORANGE COUNTY ANIMAL SERVICES — Take a look at Shamu and Tink! If you're thinking about adopting a cat in the near future, consider adopting a pair such as Shamu and Tink. There are lots of benefits to adopting two cats together. Not only do they provide mental stimulation and company for one another when you aren't around, they can also help one another adjust to new situations and environments. These two do just that! Shamu is a handsome black-and-white shorthair who is around a year old, and Tink is a gorgeous tortie who is around a year-and-a-half old. They would love to find a home with enough room and love for both of them. And of course, you'll receive twice the love and amusement in return! Visit them at Orange County's Animal Services Center, 1601 Eubanks Road, Chapel Hill or call 942-PETS (7387). You can also see them online at co.orange.nc.us/animalservices/adoption.
